

Sara Scacchi

Hello! My name is Sara Scacchi, I was born and raised in Parma, OH and found my heart's home in Tremont, OH. I am 24 years old and not ready to face the fact that I am almost half-way to 50! I attended Bowling Green State University to obtain my BSBA in Marketing and am currently pursuing my MBA in Entrepreneurship from Ashland University. I am a proud little sister, a plant-lover, a cat mother, a very sad (but committed) Cleveland sports fan & a small business owner. I enjoy practicing yoga, eating too much sushi and creating art of all kinds. I believe in love, the Universe's way of creating strange yet perfect timing and that it's okay for us all to take breaks when we need it. My Irish legacy descends from Cork and every year my family coordinates a "Quinn Clan Reunion" to honor our heritage and family.
